Sorry about the terrible autocorrect while traveling -- congrats again,

Really nice feature in Nature Ecology & Evolution. They interviewed many experts in the field and did a comprehensive job on EIDs, but concluded that Predict is the answer and included a huge section directly from us. When we talked, I also pitched GVP as a more comprehensive plan, but seems they thought it was too nascent for a mention. Good timing with all of the hype around CNN's Invisible Enemy out today.

A bit hard to access through Nature's membership requirements, but still great!
Great job all of you & your teams!

Have a nice weekend,
Jonna

PS- Looks like Nature doesn't acknowledge funders, as I praised USAID a lot. They don't list funders on any of the other studies mentioned, either.

Also, Billy, I don't see the photo credits that were requested, but that could be. Evause I'm trying to view through my phone.
